

Onshore Well Stimulation Hoses

Committed to carbon neutrality across the product lifecycle, Continental hoses combine durability, safety, and sustainability – setting new standards for onshore well stimulation. Our high-pressure hoses are designed for slickwater transport in onshore shale wells and offer:

- › Superior chemical resistance to HCl
- › Fewer connections for reduced leaks and faster assembly
- › Longer service life and lower maintenance than traditional iron piping.

Get more information about
Continental Oil & Gas Hoses